Request No. 1382881-001

Dear Mr. Doss:

You appealed from the action of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on your Freedom of Information Act request for access to all records in the possession of the ATF in the Southern District of Florida or the Department of Justice concerning the prosecution of your client, Daniel Troya.<sup>1</sup> I note that your appeal concerns the FBI's response dated August 27, 2018 regarding withholdings made by the FBI in previous responses.<sup>2</sup>

After carefully considering your appeal, I am affirming the FBI's action on your request. In order to provide your client with the greatest possible access to responsive records, your request was reviewed under both the Privacy Act of 1974 and the FOIA. I have determined that the records responsive to your request are exempt from the access provision of the Privacy Act. See 5 U.S.C. § 552a(j)(2); see also 28 C.F.R. § 16.96 (2018). For this reason, I have reviewed your appeal under the FOIA.

The FOIA provides for disclosure of many agency records. At the same time, Congress included in the FOIA nine exemptions from disclosure that provide protection for important interests such as personal privacy, privileged communications, and certain law enforcement activities. The FBI properly withheld certain information because it is protected from disclosure under the FOIA pursuant to:

5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(3), which concerns matters specifically exempted from release by statute (in this instance, 18 U.S.C. § 2510, which pertains to wiretap requests and the contents of any wire, oral, or electronic communication obtained through wiretaps);

<sup>1</sup> The FBI broadly construed your request as having been made for all records regarding your client, not just those relating to ATF.

<sup>2</sup> Please be advised that the adjudication of this appeal addresses the withholdings made by the FBI in its two prior releases in FOIAPA Nos. 1331620-000 and 1331620-001.

5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6), which concerns material the release of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of third parties;

5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(C), which concerns records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of third parties;

5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(D), which concerns records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identities of confidential sources and information furnished by such sources;

5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(E), which concerns records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which would disclose techniques and procedures or guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions; and

5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(F), which concerns records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or personal safety of an individual.

Please be advised that for each of these exemptions, it is reasonably foreseeable that disclosure of the information withheld would harm the interests protected by these exemptions.

To the extent that your request seeks access to records that would either confirm or deny an individual's placement on any government watch list, the FBI properly refused to confirm or deny the existence of any such records because their existence is protected from disclosure pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552a(j)(2) & 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(E). Exemption 7(E) concerns records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which would disclose techniques and procedures or guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions. Further, it is reasonably foreseeable that confirming or denying an individual's placement on any government watch list would harm the interests protected by this exemption. See, e.g., Kalu v. IRS, 159 F. Supp. 3d 16, 23 (D.D.C. 2016). This response should not be taken as an indication that records do or do not exist. Rather, this is the standard response made by the FBI.

As to your appeal concerning the adequacy of the FBI's search for responsive records subject to the FOIA, I have determined that the FBI's response was correct and that it conducted an adequate, reasonable search for such records.

Please be advised that this Office's decision was made only after a full review of this matter. Your appeal was assigned to an attorney with this Office who thoroughly reviewed and analyzed your appeal, your underlying request, and the action of the FBI in response to your request.

If you are dissatisfied with my action on your appeal, the FOIA permits you to file a lawsuit in federal district court in accordance with 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).
